

BETTER THE PLANET THROUGH BUILDING ENERGY EFFICIENCY

Associate in Science Degree in Energy Management and Controls Technology

Are you a problem solver? Like saving energy? Want to innovate?

The A.S. degree in Energy Management and Controls Technology prepares you to go directly into a specialized career in energy management, automation and controls technology.

Program benefits:

- Become a multi-faceted technician using the most current technology available
- Gain an understanding of building systems, energy efficiency and indoor environmental quality
- Get hands-on experience in managing and controlling a building's electrical and mechanical systems

Career opportunities:

- Building Controls Technician
- Building Automation Specialist
- Building Systems Operator
- Project Coordinator

Learn More: valenciacollege.edu/emct

VALENCIA COLLEGE